OVERVIEW

Fort Worth anchors the western half of the Dallas–Fort Worth Metroplex and has grown into one of the largest and fastest-growing cities in the United States. With a population exceeding 1 million residents, Fort Worth benefits from the strength of the broader Dallas–Fort Worth–Arlington metropolitan area, one of the largest and most dynamic regions in the country. The Metroplex is home to a deep base of corporate headquarters, major employers, and expanding residential communities, while Fort Worth continues to stand out for its business-friendly environment, strong population growth, and access to key transportation corridors. The region also benefits from strong submarket occupancy fundamentals, a diverse employment base, and a robust retail landscape supported by one of the fastest-growing consumer markets in the country.

The Fort Worth economy is supported by a diverse mix of industries including aerospace and defense, logistics, healthcare, energy, advanced manufacturing, and corporate services. Its central location within North Texas, proximity to DFW International Airport, and access to major interstate and rail infrastructure make the city a strategic hub for distribution, corporate expansion, and long-term business investment. Fort Worth is also home to major institutional employers and a growing base of private companies, reinforcing its position as a key economic engine within the Dallas–Fort Worth Metroplex.

Fort Worth continues to attract residents, entrepreneurs, corporations, and institutional investment due to its favorable tax structure, pro-business climate, and strong quality of life. Local leadership has prioritized economic development, infrastructure investment, and job creation while preserving the city's distinct identity within the larger Metroplex. These factors, combined with sustained population growth and strong regional fundamentals, position Fort Worth as one of the most resilient and attractive markets in Texas.

Information About Brokerage Services

Texas law requires all real estate license holders to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

TYPES OF REAL ESTATE LICENSE HOLDERS:

- A BROKER is responsible for all brokerage activities, including acts performed by sales agents sponsored by the broker.
- A SALES AGENT must be sponsored by a broker and works with clients on behalf of the broker.

A BROKER'S MINIMUM DUTIES REQUIRED BY LAW (A client is the person or party that the broker represents):

- Put the interests of the client above all others, including the broker's own interests;
- Inform the client of any material information about the property or transaction received by the broker;
- Answer the client's questions and present any offer to or counter-offer from the client; and
- Treat all parties to a real estate transaction honestly and fairly.

A LICENSE HOLDER CAN REPRESENT A PARTY IN A REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION:

AS AGENT FOR OWNER (SELLER/LANDLORD): The broker becomes the property owner's agent through an agreement with the owner, usually in a written listing to sell or property management agreement. An owner's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the owner of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent or subagent by the buyer or buyer's agent.

AS AGENT FOR BUYER/TENANT: The broker becomes the buyer/tenant's agent by agreeing to represent the buyer, usually through a written representation agreement. A buyer's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the buyer of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent by th e seller or seller's agent.

AS AGENT FOR BOTH - INTERMEDIARY: To act as an intermediary between the parties the broker must first obtain the written agreement of each party to the transaction. The written agreement must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. A broker who acts as an intermediary:

- Must treat all parties to the transaction impartially and fairly;
- May, with the parties' written consent, appoint a different license holder associated with the broker to each party (owner and
- buyer) to communicate with, provide opinions and advice to, and carry out the instructions of each party to the transaction.
- Must not, unless specifically authorized in writing to do so by the party, disclose:
  - that the owner will accept a price less than the written asking price;
  - that the buyer/tenant will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer; and
  - any confidential information or any other information that a party specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose, unless required to do so by law.

AS SUBAGENT: A license holder acts as a subagent when aiding a buyer in a transaction without an agreement to represent the buyer. A subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first.

TO AVOID DISPUTES, ALL AGREEMENTS BETWEEN YOU AND A BROKER SHOULD BE IN WRITING AND CLEARLY ESTABLISH:

- The broker's duties and responsibilities to you, and your obligations under the representation agreement.
- Who will pay the broker for services provided to you, when payment will be made and how the payment will be calculated.

LICENSE HOLDER CONTACT INFORMATION: This notice is being provided for information purposes. It does not create an obligation for you to use the broker's services. Please acknowledge receipt of this notice below and retain a copy for your records.
